SOFI YA SARAFANOVA,
RUSSIAN, EDHEC - 2016,
PwC, AUDIT CONSULTANT, MOSCOW
THE IMPACT ON MY AMBITIONS

"I chose EDHEC for its very impressive Financial Times ranking and because it is the only school which offers an MSc in Finance to students from different international backgrounds. EDHEC is exactly like the real world of business and it prepared me for business realities: the expectations are very high and students are fully responsible for their own progress. I fine-tuned my project management skills during the programme through concrete project management; a skill I now apply on a daily basis. The support I received from the Career Centre was excellent. Thanks to mock interviews and online tests, careers events and contacts with global industry leaders, I was very well prepared and was hired at PwC after my first interview!"

DARIA BOBUKH, RUSSIAN
EDHEC - 2017
MSC FINANCE STUDENT, EIFFEL SCHOLAR
THE IMPACT ON MY FUTURE

"I have chosen EDHEC as a priority. The school has an outstanding faculty, a broad curriculum and a great track record of preparing competitive professionals." On top, EDHEC, is ranked very well in the world and Europe in particular. Being an undergraduate student I got the chance to experience French education system in a business school during my exchange in France. The MSc Finance programme perfectly fitted me and it seemed to be a very intensive and challenging course. EDHEC provides numerous opportunities for those who want to benefit from scholarships. When I passed all the necessary steps to join the EDHEC community (such as application and interview) and was admitted to the programme I applied for Eiffel scholarship. The selection of candidates was highly competitive and was based on academic excellence and a motivation letter proving why a student is the best fit for the scholarship. It should be said that it is the school that decides whether it wants to represent you for this scholarship or not. I was lucky to have such an opportunity to be selected by EDHEC as a candidate for this prestigious scholarship
